ENVISION FINANCIAL SYSTEMS SELECTED AS FINALIST FOR SOFTWARE COMPANY OF THE YEAR

Company selected for prestigious annual Software Industry Awards

Feb. 4, 2004 (Tustin, CA)—Envision Financial Systems, a leading provider of software solutions to the institutional and mutual fund industry, announced that it has been selected as a finalist for the category of Software Company of the Year by the Software Industry Awards.

The Software Industry Awards, now in their ninth year of existence, recognize leaders who have made outstanding contributions to the industry. The Awards also measure the continuing growth and influence of the software industry in Southern California, representing over 8,000 companies and tens of thousands of talented employees.

“We are honored to be nominated by an association that focuses on delivering excellence in the software industry. Envision Financial Systems strives to continually improve and deliver value to our clients in the mutual fund industry,” says Satnam Gambhir, President of Envision.

The 2004 Software Industry Awards will attract over 300 executives from Southern California's software, Internet, entertainment and support industries. Past events have also attracted influential members of the media, including representatives from the Los Angeles Times, Los Angeles Business Journal, Wall Street Journal, Software Magazine, New Media Magazine, InfoWorld, Byte, Net Guide, Computer Currents, and Microtimes.
